must be proportionate to the threat Duress Being coerced into committing a crime under threat of immediate death or serious bodily harm Necessity Committing a crime to prevent a greater evil This defence is narrowly defined and requires a clear and imminent threat Intoxication While not a complete defence for most offences intoxication can be relevant in negating mens rea for specific crimes particularly those requiring specific intent IV The Role of Evidence and Burden of Proof The Crown bears the burden of proving the accuseds guilt beyond a reasonable doubt This is a high standard reflecting the serious consequences of a criminal conviction Evidence is presented through witnesses exhibits and expert testimony The defence can challenge the Crowns evidence and present its own evidence to support the accuseds case V Sentencing Upon conviction the judge imposes a sentence guided by the Criminal Code and relevant case law Sentencing aims to achieve various goals including retribution deterrence rehabilitation and protection of the public Sentences can include imprisonment fines probation or community service VI Key Case Law Beyond R v Daviault several landmark cases have shaped Canadian criminal law R v Oakes 1986 established the Oakes test for determining the constitutionality of laws that infringe on Charter rights R v Gladue 1999 emphasized the importance of considering Indigenous circumstances in 3 sentencing R v Jordan 2016 set time limits for the completion of criminal trials to ensure fairness and efficiency VII A ForwardLooking Perspective Canadian criminal law is constantly evolving adapting to societal changes and technological advancements Debates continue surrounding issues like mandatory minimum sentences the justice systems response to Indigenous peoples and the challenges posed by cybercrime Future developments will likely focus on ensuring fairness addressing systemic biases and effectively dealing with emerging forms of crime VIII ExpertLevel FAQs 1 What is the difference between specific intent and general intent in mens rea Specific intent requires a conscious objective to achieve a particular result eg intending to kill in murder General intent only requires the intention to perform the act without necessarily intending the specific consequences eg intentionally punching someone resulting in injury assault 2 How does the Charter of Rights and Freedoms impact criminal proceedings The Charter guarantees fundamental rights and freedoms including the right to a fair trial protection against selfincrimination and the right to legal counsel These rights significantly influence all aspects of criminal proceedings 3 What is the role of the Supreme Court of Canada in criminal law The Supreme Court is the highest court of appeal in Canada responsible for interpreting the Criminal Code and establishing precedents that guide lower courts Its decisions shape the development and application of criminal law across the country 4

How does the principle of stare decisis function in Canadian criminal law This principle of precedent means that lower courts must generally follow the decisions of higher courts This ensures consistency and predictability in the application of the law However courts can depart from precedent if it is demonstrably flawed or inappropriate in light of evolving societal values 5 What are the implications of the increasing use of technology in criminal investigations and prosecutions The use of technology like surveillance DNA evidence and cyber forensics presents both opportunities and challenges Balancing the need for effective law enforcement with the protection of privacy rights is a crucial ongoing debate 4 This article provides a broad overview of Canadian criminal law Specific situations often require detailed legal analysis and the expertise of qualified legal professionals This information should not be considered legal advice
